Mildred Fox Jordt presented the Centennial Committee with a beautiful quilt honoring the occasion of Parshall’s 100th birthday. The Centennial Celebration will be held in June, 2014. Mrs. Jordt is an award-winning quilter and has had several of her pieces selected for Kansas quilt shows. She is recognized as an authority on the role of the star quilt in contemporary American Indian society. As such, she is often called upon to present information and display her quilts at various conferences and gatherings. Mrs. Jordt was born and raised in the Fort Berthold Reservation in North Dakota but has lived in Kansas for many years. She still calls Mandaree her home and visits here frequently. Several of her quilts are on display at the Three Tribes Museum in New Town ND.
